

PERRY LUXE

Custom Window Coverings

OUR PROMISE

With every window covering we craft, we bring decades of expertise in building a superior product.

Each shade and drapery undergoes rigorous testing to ensure its quality and functionality.

We specialize in working with challenging fabrics and window configurations, ensuring our customers never have to compromise on their vision.

Customization is at the core of our business.

We meticulously color match thread for every project, reflecting our commitment to even the smallest detail.

We pattern match every project and handle each fabric with the understanding that each has unique hanging and sewing characteristics.

Our team guides designers through the ordering process, ensuring a perfect fit for every project. Our guidance ensures that every project installs flawlessly.

You can choose our House Cotton or Duck fabric, or supply your own, giving you unlimited design options.

In addition, we're pioneers in curving and motorizing Roman shades and rods.

We specialize in crafting custom curved Roman shades and curved iron rods, both available with motorized options for effortless operation. Our expertise extends to creating window coverings for even the most challenging window configurations. If you desire something truly unique, we have a proven track record of transforming extraordinary ideas into reality.
